Parasitic

“The unification of the human race was the only way to stop and finally defeat the deadliest plague to infect the planet. It took us all, all of us to finally wake up and realize who our true enemy was. A parasitic creature like no other, that wanted to divide us and keep us mentally enslaved so that they could continue to spread their evil on to the world. This is in the hopes that humanity will never become obsolete.” - K.R.M.

CHAPTER ONE
A World Without Hate

Parasitic

This is our Utopia. The world is a different but better place than it once was. There is no such thing as race or racism and no such thing as a separation of the races. In a world that is well over four and a half billion years old and a species, the human race, well over two million years old, it took the deadliest virus, no a plague never before seen by mankind to finally help create and unite a world that had become divided for centuries, thousands of years to unite and fight to save not only mankind and the human race but to save the planet itself from this deadly and destructive parasite that plagued and infected this planet that we now call Earth 6.0

The evolution of the human race had been well-documented thousands of years ago but the fact that those who did the documenting, researching, and recording had an agenda meant that many of the so-called facts that we thought we knew. Were nothing more than lies and falsehoods used to help perpetuate and establish the plague's', the parasites' plan to destabilize the planet and the human race in order to gain control and dominate the world for thousands of years. We now live on a planet that is free from the evils of division and the ugliness of racism and hatred that helped the parasites that infected the planet to spread its diseases worldwide for thousands of years.

The world is free from the poisonous and toxic chemicals that were mostly caused by pollution emitted from the so-called industrial complex that competed globally in an attempt to maximize their profit margins at the expense of the health of the world's citizens and at the expense of the planet. Earth is once again a place of hopes and dreams that mankind can enjoy. No longer is the planet a victim of overconsumption as the population of the world has dwindled greatly in order for the planet to sustain itself. The world's population went from over nine billion people at the end of the twenty-first century to now just under five hundred million. World Wars, Civil Wars, Global Warming, diseases, famine, and other factors caused the world's population to decrease ten-fold less than five to six thousand years later. The world we now live in is a place that no longer lives with the fear of nuclear war, the destabilization of governments, racism, global warming, or warmongering regimes that put the world at risk to total annihilation.

Technology and the advancement of technology also helped to usher in the destruction or should we say the quick and rapid decline of the world's population as the more advanced the world became, the more technology was used to do harm and empower those whose only concern was their wealth and their status. Less than one percent of the world was considered rich or wealthy as the majority of the world was poor and impoverished. The rich and powerful lack of concern and humanity allowed for the majority of the world's population to die from lack of food and water but also from the lack of access to medical care and shelter. The world before the cleansing of the parasitic creatures that ruled the world had become a destitute and decryped place for those who lacked the financial resources to compete in the so-called global economy. The so-called rich and the powerful only concern was their ability to gain more wealth and more power even if it meant sucking and draining the world's resources dry and even if that meant the deaths of billions of the world's population.

The world as we now know it is a world of peace and community and where people are judged by their character and not by their race, the color of their skin, or their belief system like in the old days as those things were used as a crutch and wedge issue to keep the world docile and ignorant to the fact that the parasitic plague that came to be, used these divisive issues to separate the people of this world in order to keep the people ignorant to what their brutal and horrific agenda truly was. The parasitic plague was created because man has always envisioned himself as God or as a supreme being and has always wanted to prove how powerful he was. The creation of the plague like most biological weapons and chemical weapons was created by man to gain absolute power but the creator failed to understand what he unleashed on the world was pure evil, the epitome of evilness that mankind would ever experience in its existence. It took thousands of years for the world to finally find a cure and defeat this parasitic plague that mutated over time until it's final mutation led to the barbaric beast that the world had to unite against to fight and finally defeat.

The worst mutation of this parasitic creature overpopulated the world then began to infect the world with its evilness and barbaric ideology. These monstrous creatures got a foothold in governments, like America, and in Europe and began the slow and meticulous process of brainwashing the masses into believing in its hateful and idiotic and barbaric ideology that splintered the world for thousands of years. We have researched and documented the parasitic creatures' path of unholy and ungodly destruction so that they will never again infect the world with its disease of hatred, racism, and divisiveness. The delusional bubble that these parasitic creatures created caused the world to slowly believe in its hateful and vile ideology. Lies became the truth. The ruthless American regime that took control of the world manipulated the narrative through brainwashing, subliminal messaging through the media and also through outright brute force. The murderous regime of the parasitic clan, these parasitic creatures knew no bounds when it came to forcing their ideology onto the world's population. Their destructiveness nearly crippled the moral fabric of the human race who had nearly succumb to the ruthless and barbaric ways of the parasitic creatures. The human race, fortunately, withstood the evil ways of the parasitic creatures and fortunately brought the world from the brink of total annihilation.

We now live in a world where happiness and fortune for all is the norm. Those who came before us and was a minority in the fight for good and righteousness against the face of evil fought hard and valiantly to ensure a world of peace in a time where the parasitic creatures and their puppets tried to normalize racism, the telling of lies and falsehoods, and the false ideology of white superiority and white supremacy. Thousands of years later, we continue to fight to ensure that this plague or any other plague or plagues will never infect the world again and cause the kind of harm and destructiveness that the world faced before.

Parasitic

There is no longer the disease of selfishness on this planet. We now live as a community and self-sacrifice is the norm. The world community has slowly relearned that humanity and unity is the key to our survival. The plague has united the world that we now live on and hopefully that will continue as we will always be vigilant in reminding those who now live on this planet to never forget the past and never forget how the world became the victim of our own doing as we turned our backs on our spirituality and on each other, thus allowing for the parasitic creatures the opportunity to force its evil ways into our world.
