

Darkness Awakens

Michael Williams

Darkness Awakens

Darkness
Awakens
Book I

Michael J. Williams

Darkness Awakens

This book, or parts thereof, may not be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without the written permission of the publisher.

The characters and events in this book are fictional, and any resemblance to actual persons or events is coincidental.

Every attempt has been made to credit the sources of copyrighted material used in this book. If any such acknowledgment has been inadvertently omitted or miscredited, receipt of such information would be appreciated.

Darkness Awakens

Copyright © 2020 Michael J. Williams

All rights reserved.

ISBN:

ISBN-13:

Darkness Awakens

Link to my Author's page where you can find my bio and also purchase my books at <http://www.amazon.com/author/michaeljwilliams305>

Visit my website at
<https://www.mjwpub.com>

Darkness Awakens

Also by Michael J. Williams

The South Beach Slayer
America Amerikkka Америка
Parasitic Predators
Parasitic
The Patriot Complex
Longinus

Darkness Awakens

1. The Destruction of Earth
2. The Creator and the Creation
3. The Awakening
4. The Innocence of High School
5. I Can Only Save Myself
6. The Aftermath
7. Newfound Powers
8. The Hideout
9. The Streets are A Lonely Place
10. Alpha Omega
11. The Confrontation
12. The Anomaly
13. Declaration of War/Enemy Combatant
14. Eureka
15. Serum X
16. The Formation of the Kill Squad
17. Deeper Down the Rabbit Hole
18. The Bottomless Pit of the Rabbit Hole
19. The Definition of Insanity
20. The Naked Pony Strip Club
21. The Face of Evil
22. It Begins

Darkness Awakens

- 23. Caught in a Bind
- 24. What Have I Become
- 25. I Must Face My Nemesis
- 26. The Creation of a

Hybrid

- 27. The Fort
 - 28. Death is Lurking
 - 29. The War Against The
- White Plague Continues

Darkness Awakens

“It is believed and said that God created man, in his, own image. No one ever questioned whether God wanted men to have the ability, the power, and the knowledge to scientifically create mankind in a lab. God never intended for mankind to create a superior form of himself, in order, for mankind to become Gods themselves.”

Darkness Awakens

CHAPTER ONE

The Destruction of Earth

Darkness Awakens

We all have heard or read about stories that predictably tell about the destruction or extinction of mankind and the end of the world as we know it. Stories that tell how mankind had the chance to stop the inevitable death and extinction of the human race but mankind, at least those that claimed to be men and or claimed to even be human. These parasitic beasts refused to satisfy its insatiable need to kill and destroy every living being or creature or organism that ever walked the face of the earth. These so-called men, these so-called people, these non-human beings, these Neanderthals, these parasites, leached and sucked and drained the blood and life and very essence out of every living being it ever encountered. Every living creature and every living organism that it dug its parasitic claws into.

Predictable stories about how some of mankind, a few, somehow managed to flee the earth on spaceships and save themselves from extinction and complete annihilation. While millions of people, the poor and impoverished, perished and died a horrible death as the earth burns in a hotbed of fire and lava. The same old predictable stories about massive and deadly earthquakes killing thousands of people at one time or the earth exploding into a ball of hot volcanic flames and fire as billions and billions of people are burnt to a crisp and die a horrible and tragic but predictable death.

Darkness Awakens

The few survivors, because there are always survivors, usually the so-called wealthy, the so-called elite, and the powerful. The less than one percent of the now doomed population who sucked the land and the planet dry in their quest for absolute power and unimaginable wealth. Tried in vain and to the detriment of the human race and the planet to quench their insatiable thirst for power, wealth, greed, and death. The less than one percent of the world's population, the so-called elite, the billionaires and millionaires who are the root cause of the world coming to such a violent end.

They predictably manage to escape, in the nick of time of course, to a space station or another planet, usually the planet Mars and Terraform the atmosphere and planet as they predictably live happily ever after in these predictable and tiresome stories told and written by their kind. All of this, mankind's salvation, or should we say the salvation of the so-called elite. Their salvation that ends with mankind, especially the wealthy, the powerful and the elite never learning from their destructive ways and attitudes and never concerning themselves with correcting their past mistakes that eventually lead to and caused the death of billions of poor and impoverished people and caused the destruction of the planet earth.

Darkness Awakens

Their murderous and barbaric past that led to the destruction of every living creature or animal on earth and the deaths of billions of poor and poverty-stricken people, mostly Black and non-Black people of color. But especially those soaked in the melanin of the Gods suffered the most from the brutality and evilness of the few. And if these poor and unfortunate humans and survivors of racism and oppression, somehow survive the aftermath of the destruction and extinction of the planet and are somehow able to miraculously board one of these spaceships designed to protect and save the wealthy and the powerful from extinction. A spaceship headed to a Terraform Mars or space station built for these wealthy racist white folks. Black peoples' hardship and impoverished lifestyle and the oppressive predicament that they lived and suffered through on earth remain the same thousands and even millions of miles from a place they once knew as and called their homes. These poor souls, even millions of miles from earth, are essentially lost in space.

Darkness Awakens

As they struggled and lived in poverty on earth, so do they struggle and live in poverty on a Terra-formed Mars or man-made space station that was created for the salvation and continuation of the so-called elite and the powerful. The end of the earth is not the end of capitalism or racism or fascism or classism, no matter what planet or universe the human race lands on. As long as they, the descendants of Alkebulan, their vast communities, and their rich and vast cultures, are still infected by the parasitic mutation, known as the white plague. This deadly disease, this incurable plague, the white plague will continue to endanger and bring about the extinction of all living organisms within this universe and all universes. The white plague is a parasitic mutation that refuses to and will not willingly allow the one true human race to live in peace and harmony as long as these parasitic creatures continue to breathe and pollute the atmosphere, pollute the earth and pollute the universe with its vile and evil ways that are ingrained in their parasitic DNA. The kind of evilness that is continuously and systematically indoctrinated into their weak parasitic and polluted little minds by their overlord and overseer, their master and their lord, their father and their creator, the fanged hairy and pale beast and lord of death and king of destruction, the devil himself. The master and creator of the white plague that has infected the world and infected humanity for thousands of years.

Darkness Awakens

As long as the white plague exists in this universe. The one true human race and descendants of Alkebulan will never live in peace and harmony and will never find peace until the complete annihilation and extinction of the white plague is complete.

What happens when the destruction of the earth and the death of billions could have been prevented from happening? Not because mankind somehow miraculously united and banded together to stop the purge and pillaging of earth's precious but limited resources. Not because mankind magically ended poverty, homelessness, famine, and hunger because millions, no billions of people learned the valiant and honorable and charitable lessons of Mansa Musa. The African king, the wealthiest person to ever live on this planet. The beloved African king who wrecked the economies of nations that he visited because of all of the gold, the riches, and the food that he willingly gave to the poor and impoverished people he and his entourage of hundreds of thousands of servants encountered along his travels across the Africa continent. And not because racism somehow disappeared or because of those who benefited from racism, sexism, fascism, and classism, individuals who also benefited from their racist and vile ways, somehow magically became humane or decent overnight, to prevent the inevitable death of billions of people.

Darkness Awakens

We must learn and teach each other that wealth is not in material things or in an economy that takes and steals from the masses, steals from the poor, and steals from those disenfranchised and give to a select few. We must teach and learn that true wealth, spiritual wealth is not something you heartlessly and forcibly take from the impoverished, the disenfranchised, the oppressed, and the sick and the poor. And give to the less than one percent of the population, the so-called elite because of insatiable greed for material things and because of a sickness, inside of one's core and one's DNA or because the white plague lacks a sense of humanity and lacks a moral compass inside its very being, and mindset.

We must teach and learn that true wealth is in charity, helping your fellow man. For the planet and the human race to survive, mankind must learn that true wealth is in the love you have for your fellow man and in the humanity in one's heart and one's soul. That true wealth is in loving oneself so that you can love and cherish others. A lesson that mankind seems incapable of learning or even willing to learn as long as it is being infected by the white plague's evil mindset of individualism, racism, so-called exceptionalism, sexism, and greed.

Darkness Awakens

Perhaps, the way to stop the inevitable destruction of the earth and the way to save the planet and mankind is through meticulous soul searching and research. Perhaps it is through deep thought and intellect. Perhaps, it is through education and technology. It may just be through love, kindness, respect, civility, and decency. Perhaps, mankind will discover its lost humanity by finally discovering how to create superior human beings that will become equals with the almighty and finally understand compassion and empathy. The way these man-made religions have falsely taught the world about their so-called almighty, their gods, that supposedly exudes onto the world and onto mankind. Perhaps, mankind gaining the knowledge, the intelligence, and the advanced technology to create and not just replicate a vision and an image of God but create Gods, even become Gods. Maybe this is mankind's salvation. It is said that Gods are perfect beings so it may be justified that if mankind is no longer mortal and no longer just ordinary humans but Gods as well. That mankind will once again discover its soul, discover its love, discover its humanity, and hopefully discover its eternity by becoming Gods themselves. This might be the way that mankind may perhaps discover its immortality and prevent the eventual extinction of life on this planet.

Darkness Awakens

Maybe the reality is that the earth, that is documented to be over four and a half billion years old is indestructible. Maybe the earth will rid itself, no cleanse itself of the global diseases, the mutations, and the global plagues and the global parasites now known as the white plague that has plagued and infected the planet for less than nine thousand years. Maybe they told us their lies about the world coming to an end and the planet dying and the end of mankind being near, is because in reality, the world will restart and the parasites that have infected the planet will cease to exist. The extinction of the parasites is inevitable. The clock is ticking as the parasitic beasts, the white plague, that has infected the planet and mankind for thousands of years and prophesied to become extinct, has an end date and that end date is near. Three hundred years or less and the world will start over and mankind, the true human race and the aboriginal and indigenous people of this planet, Black women, Black men, and Black children. Will live on in peace, in unity, and harmony with the earth as their ancestors once did. United as one community, like our ancestors, were billions of years ago, even thousands of years ago, before the white plague that nearly destroyed the planet and infected the human race and humanity with its deadly plague and diseases, was ever created through hate, envy, and jealousy, just over eight thousand years ago.

Darkness Awakens

This the white plagues' inevitable future or demise, prophesied by the ancestors but like any parasitic plague or disease. They, these parasitic mutations, refuse to allow that harmonious future to come to pass. Not without putting up a fight and without trying to stop their inevitable eradication from off the face of the earth. Their devious plan is to no longer worship the pale false Gods that they have created and forced and manipulated unto the world. Their plan of survival is now to become Gods in the hope and to attempt to stop their inevitable extinction and inevitable annihilation off the face of the planet. There is a cure for the white plague but the white plague is determined to prevent this cure from getting into the hands of the human race. Evil has no bounds. If the white plague succeeds than the world is doomed.

Darkness Awakens